

News Link: <https://www.digitimes.com/news/a20020605C2401.html>

Z-COM Wins First Prize of Best Choice in Computex Taipei

June 6, 2002

Z-Com, a wireless solution provider, today announced that XV-5300/ 5800 wireless LAN card and access point [AP], which support IEEE 802.11a/b, won [Best of Show] award out of over 200 nominated products in Computex Taipei. The products were very welcomed by Japanese customers.

[Best Choice] has nine categories and was organized by Taiwan External Trade Development Council [TAITRA], Taipei Computer Association [TCA] and Nikkei BP. The criteria for winners were technology innovation and product potential to sell in Japan. There were over two hundreds products registered and twenty-two products in the shortlist. Finally Z-COM won First Prize after vigorously competition, the rest eight winning products such as PC, tablet, graphic chip, motherboard, server, 3D audio, speaker and disc repair.

